Information submitted with any application may be considered a public record, as defined under N.C.G.S. §132-1, et seq and may be subject to disclosure to the public upon request.

1. Answer questions 1-6 either yes or no. If any of the questions are answered yes, all supporting documents, exhibits, etc. must be attached.
2. Licenses must be renewed for the current year at the present limitation before an increase may be considered.
3. Signature(s) is required in the space provided for the applicant on the application. If licensed as a partnership, all partners must sign.
4. Agreed-Upon Procedure Report prepared by a Certified Public Account or by an Independent Accountant who is engaged in the public practice of accountancy using the Agreed-Upon Procedure Report provided by the North Carolina Licensing Board for General Contractors. (Form included in this document)

OR

Audited financial statement with an unqualified opinion, a classified balance sheet and notes to the financial statement prepared by a Certified Public Accountant or by an Independent accountant who is engaged in the public practice of accountancy must be submitted with all applications for increase in limitation. The audited financial statement submitted must be prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), except as set forth in Board rules. Such exceptions are subject to the Board's discretion when it is determined that non-GAAP presentation is required in order to ascertain the working capital of an applicant. Board rule 21 NCAC 12A.0204 sets forth licensing financial eligibility requirements. The audited financial statement cannot be older than twelve (12) months from the date of receipt of the application for increase in limitation.

OR

A surety bond from a surety authority authorized to transact business in North Carolina pursuant to G.S. 58 Articles 7, 16, 21, or 22. The surety shall maintain a rating from A.M. Best, or its successor rating organization, of either Superior (A++ or A+) or Excellent (A or A-). The bond shall be continuous in form and shall be maintained in effect for as long as the applicant maintains a license to practice general contracting in North Carolina or until the applicant demonstrates the required level of working capital through an Agreed-Upon Procedure Report or an audited financial statement (see above). The licensee shall submit proof of a surety bond meeting the necessary requirements with the increase application and subsequent annual license renewal forms. The licensee shall maintain the bond in the amount five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) for an intermediate license, and one million dollars ($1,000,000) for an unlimited license. The bond shall list the State of North Carolina as obligee and be for the benefit of any person who is damaged by an act or omission of the applicant constituting breach of a construction contract, breach of a contract for the furnishing of labor, materials, or professional services to construction undertaken by the applicant, or by an unlawful act or omission of the applicant in the performance of a construction contract. (21 NCAC 12A.0204(e)).

5. The Agreed-Upon Procedure Report, audited financial statement, or surety bond and the application for increase in limitation must be in the exact same name of the license as it appears on the records with the NC Licensing Board for General Contractors.
6. A check for the appropriate fee must be attached and made payable to the North Carolina Licensing Board for General Contractors. Cash is not accepted as a form of payment and will be returned.
7. The required working capital for the limitation requested on the increase application must be met. Working capital (current assets minus current liabilities) $75,000.00 for an intermediate limitation; and $150,000.00 for an unlimited limitation.

Agreed-Upon Procedures Guide for the Review of Licensee Working Capital

The North Carolina Licensing Board for General Contractors (Board) offers three levels of licensure based on the financial stability of the applicant. A limited license can be obtained if the applicant presents evidence to the Board that the applicant has working capital that equals or exceeds $17,000. An intermediate license can be obtained if the applicant has working capital that equals or exceeds $75,000. An unlimited license can be obtained if the applicant has working capital that equals or exceeds $150,000. The Board allows for the applicant to provide the Board a report of working capital, which may be self-prepared or as calculated through an agreed-upon procedures engagement/report by a certified public accountant or an independent accountant who is engaged in the public practice of accountancy. The accompanying report should serve as a guide in the calculation of the working capital amount to be filed with the Board as part of the license request.

Procedures should be performed that results in the calculation of the applicant's Working Capital to be reported as part of the licensing application. In that regard:

1. The certified public accountant/accountant should be independent
2. The certified public accountant/accountant and the contractor should agree on the procedures to be performed in calculating Working Capital.
3. The certified public accountant/accountant should not agree to perform procedures that are overly subjective and thus possibly open to varying interpretations.
4. Examples of appropriate procedures include the following:
 - Execution of a sampling application after agreeing on relevant parameters
 - Inspection of specified documents evidencing certain types of transactions or detailed attributes thereof
 - Confirmation of specific information with third parties
 - Comparison of documents, schedules, or analyses with certain specified attributes
 - Performance of specific procedures on work performed by others
 - Performance of mathematical computations

Example procedures for material Working Capital line items might include:

- We obtained confirmation of the cash on deposit from the following banks, and we agreed the confirmed balance to the amount shown on the bank reconciliations maintained by the applicant. We mathematically checked the bank reconciliations and compared the resultant cash balances per book to the respective general ledger account balances.
- We added the individual customer account balances shown in an aged trial balance of accounts receivable and compared the resultant total with the balance in the general ledger account.
- We compared the total of the accounts payable listing at Month Day, Year, prepared by the applicant, to the balance in the related general ledger account.

The certified public accountant/accountant should present the results of applying agreed-upon procedures to specific subject matter in the form of findings. The certified public accountant/accountant should not provide negative assurance about whether the subject matter or the assertion is fairly stated based on the criteria.

The certified public accountant/accountant should report all findings from application of the agreed-upon procedures.

The certified public accountant/accountant should avoid vague or ambiguous language in reporting findings.
